Record and Track COVID-19 Mortality Incidents Faster

Nihilent has developed the COVID-19 Mortality Incident Tracker (COMIT), a Software as a Service (SaaS) offering to help Medical Examiners across the world to help track and tackle the investigation of deaths arising from the COVID-19 pandemic.

As the pandemic continues to spread, multiple challenges arise for Medical Examiners (MEs). The MEs play a critical role in managing the crisis, but they need to be equipped with the right tools and right technology that allows them to operate seamlessly and navigate this uncharted situation. COMIT is a first of its kind solution specifically built for the Medical Examiner's office that helps record, investigate and document COVID19 deaths. This is backed by experts with over hundred man-years of experience in automating operations of ME offices.
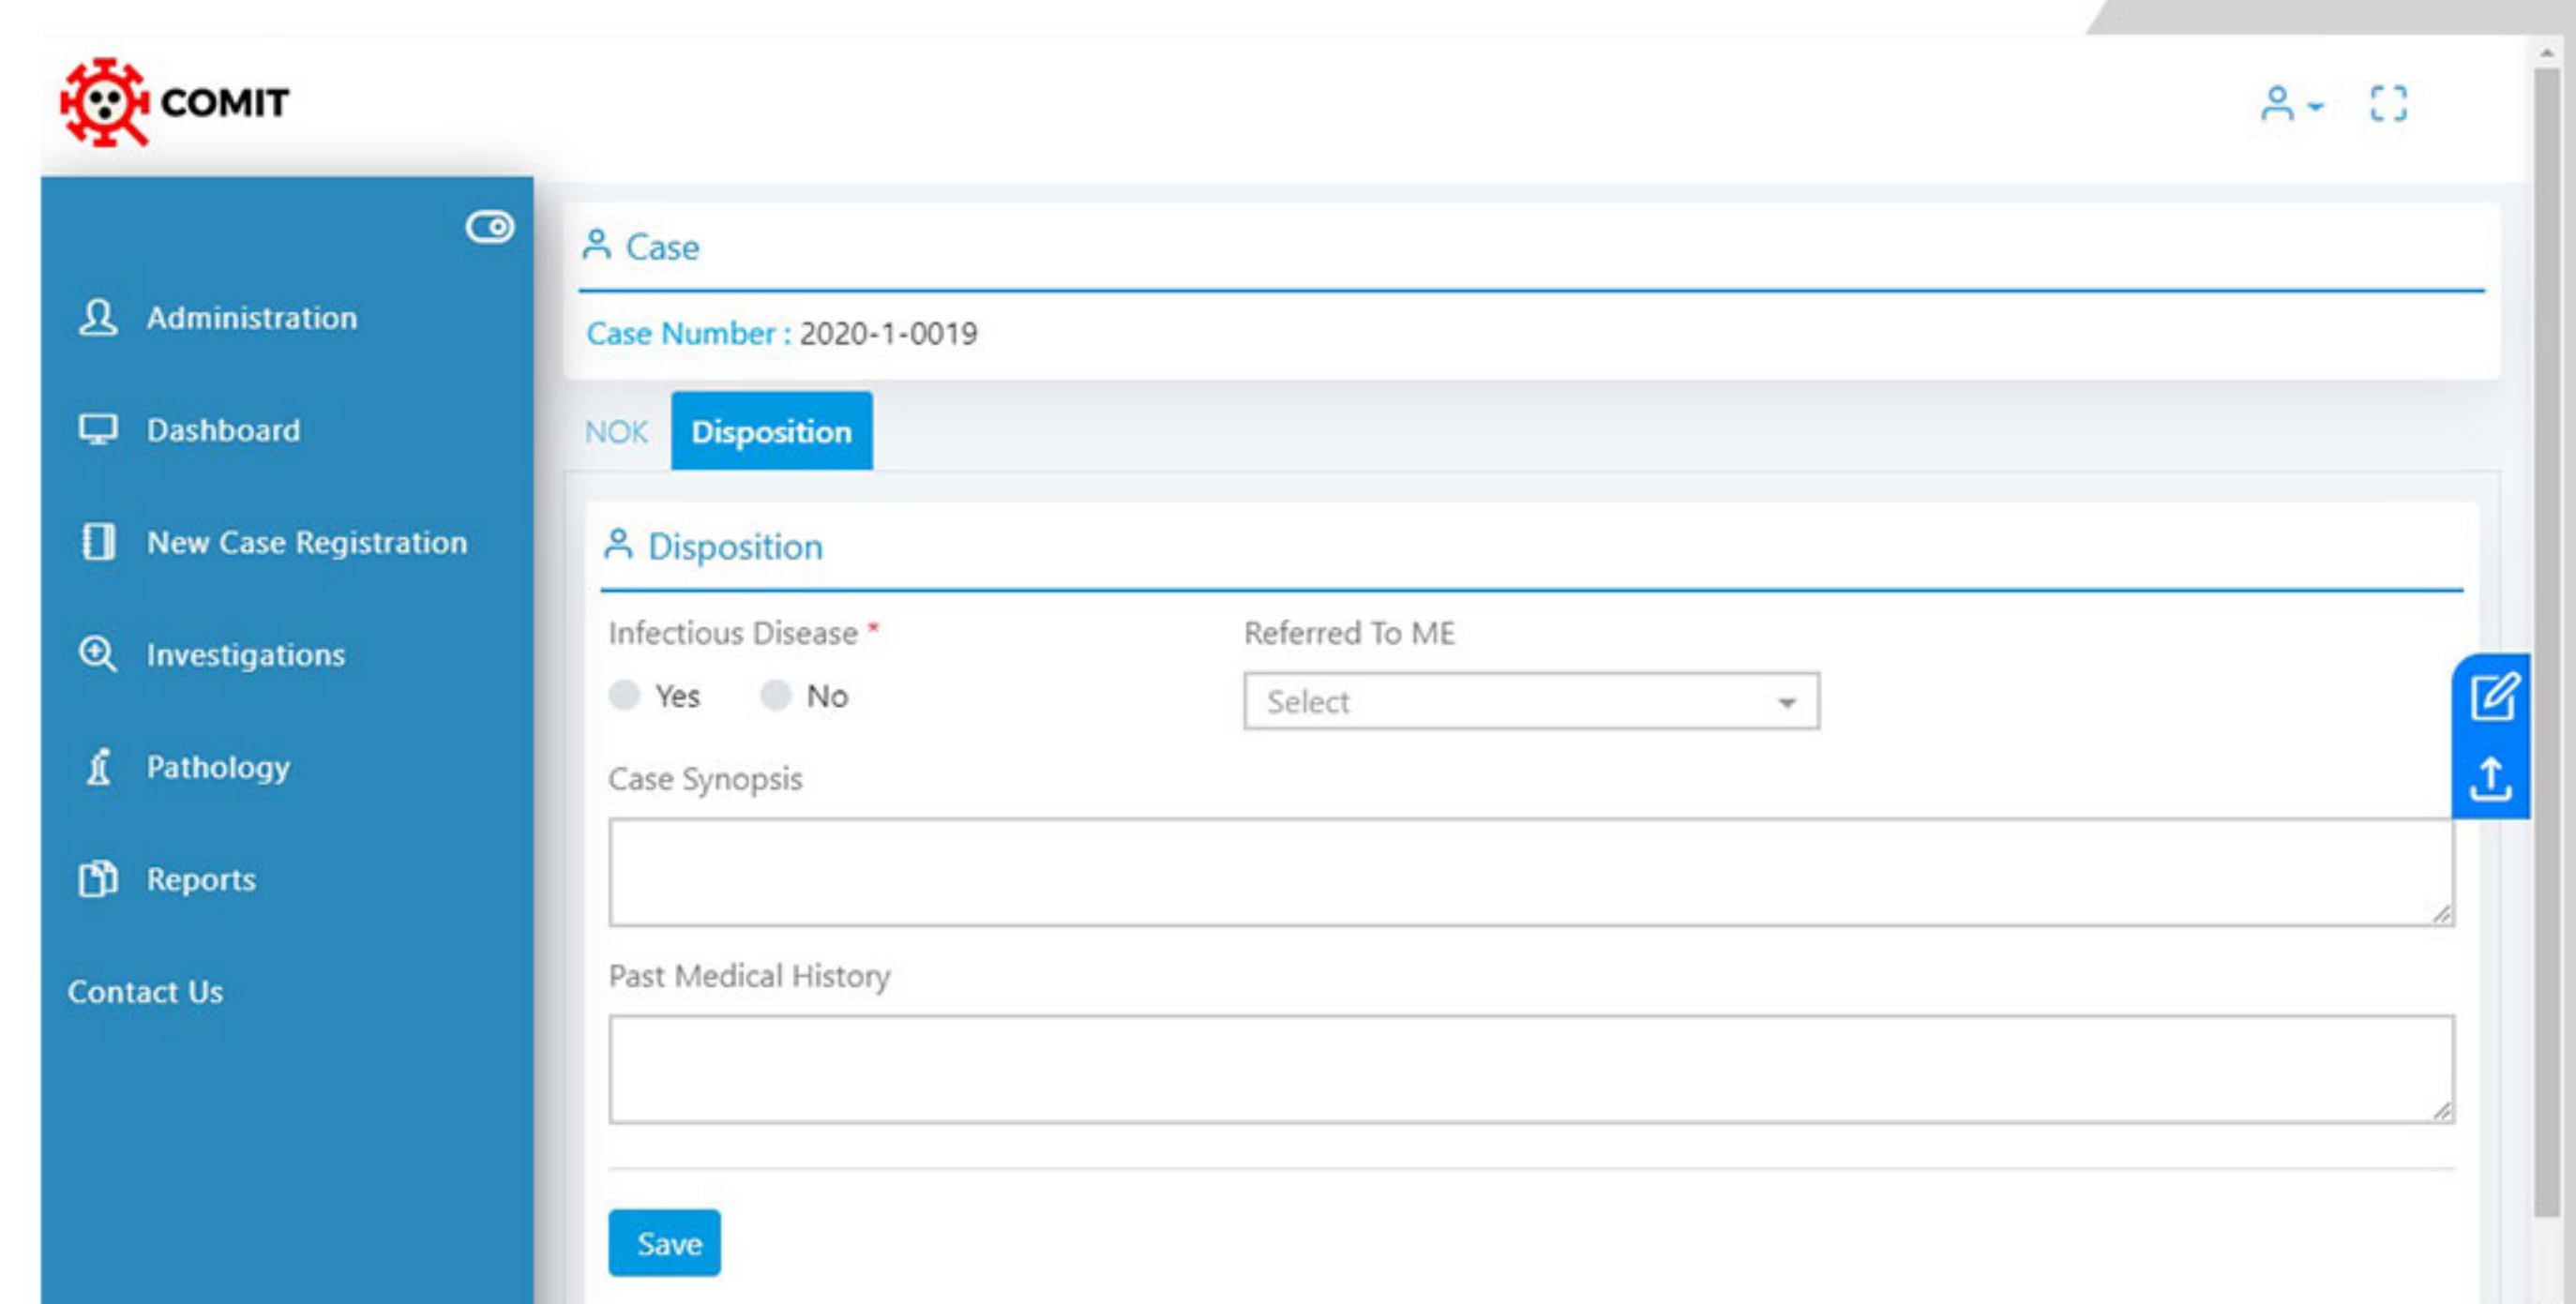

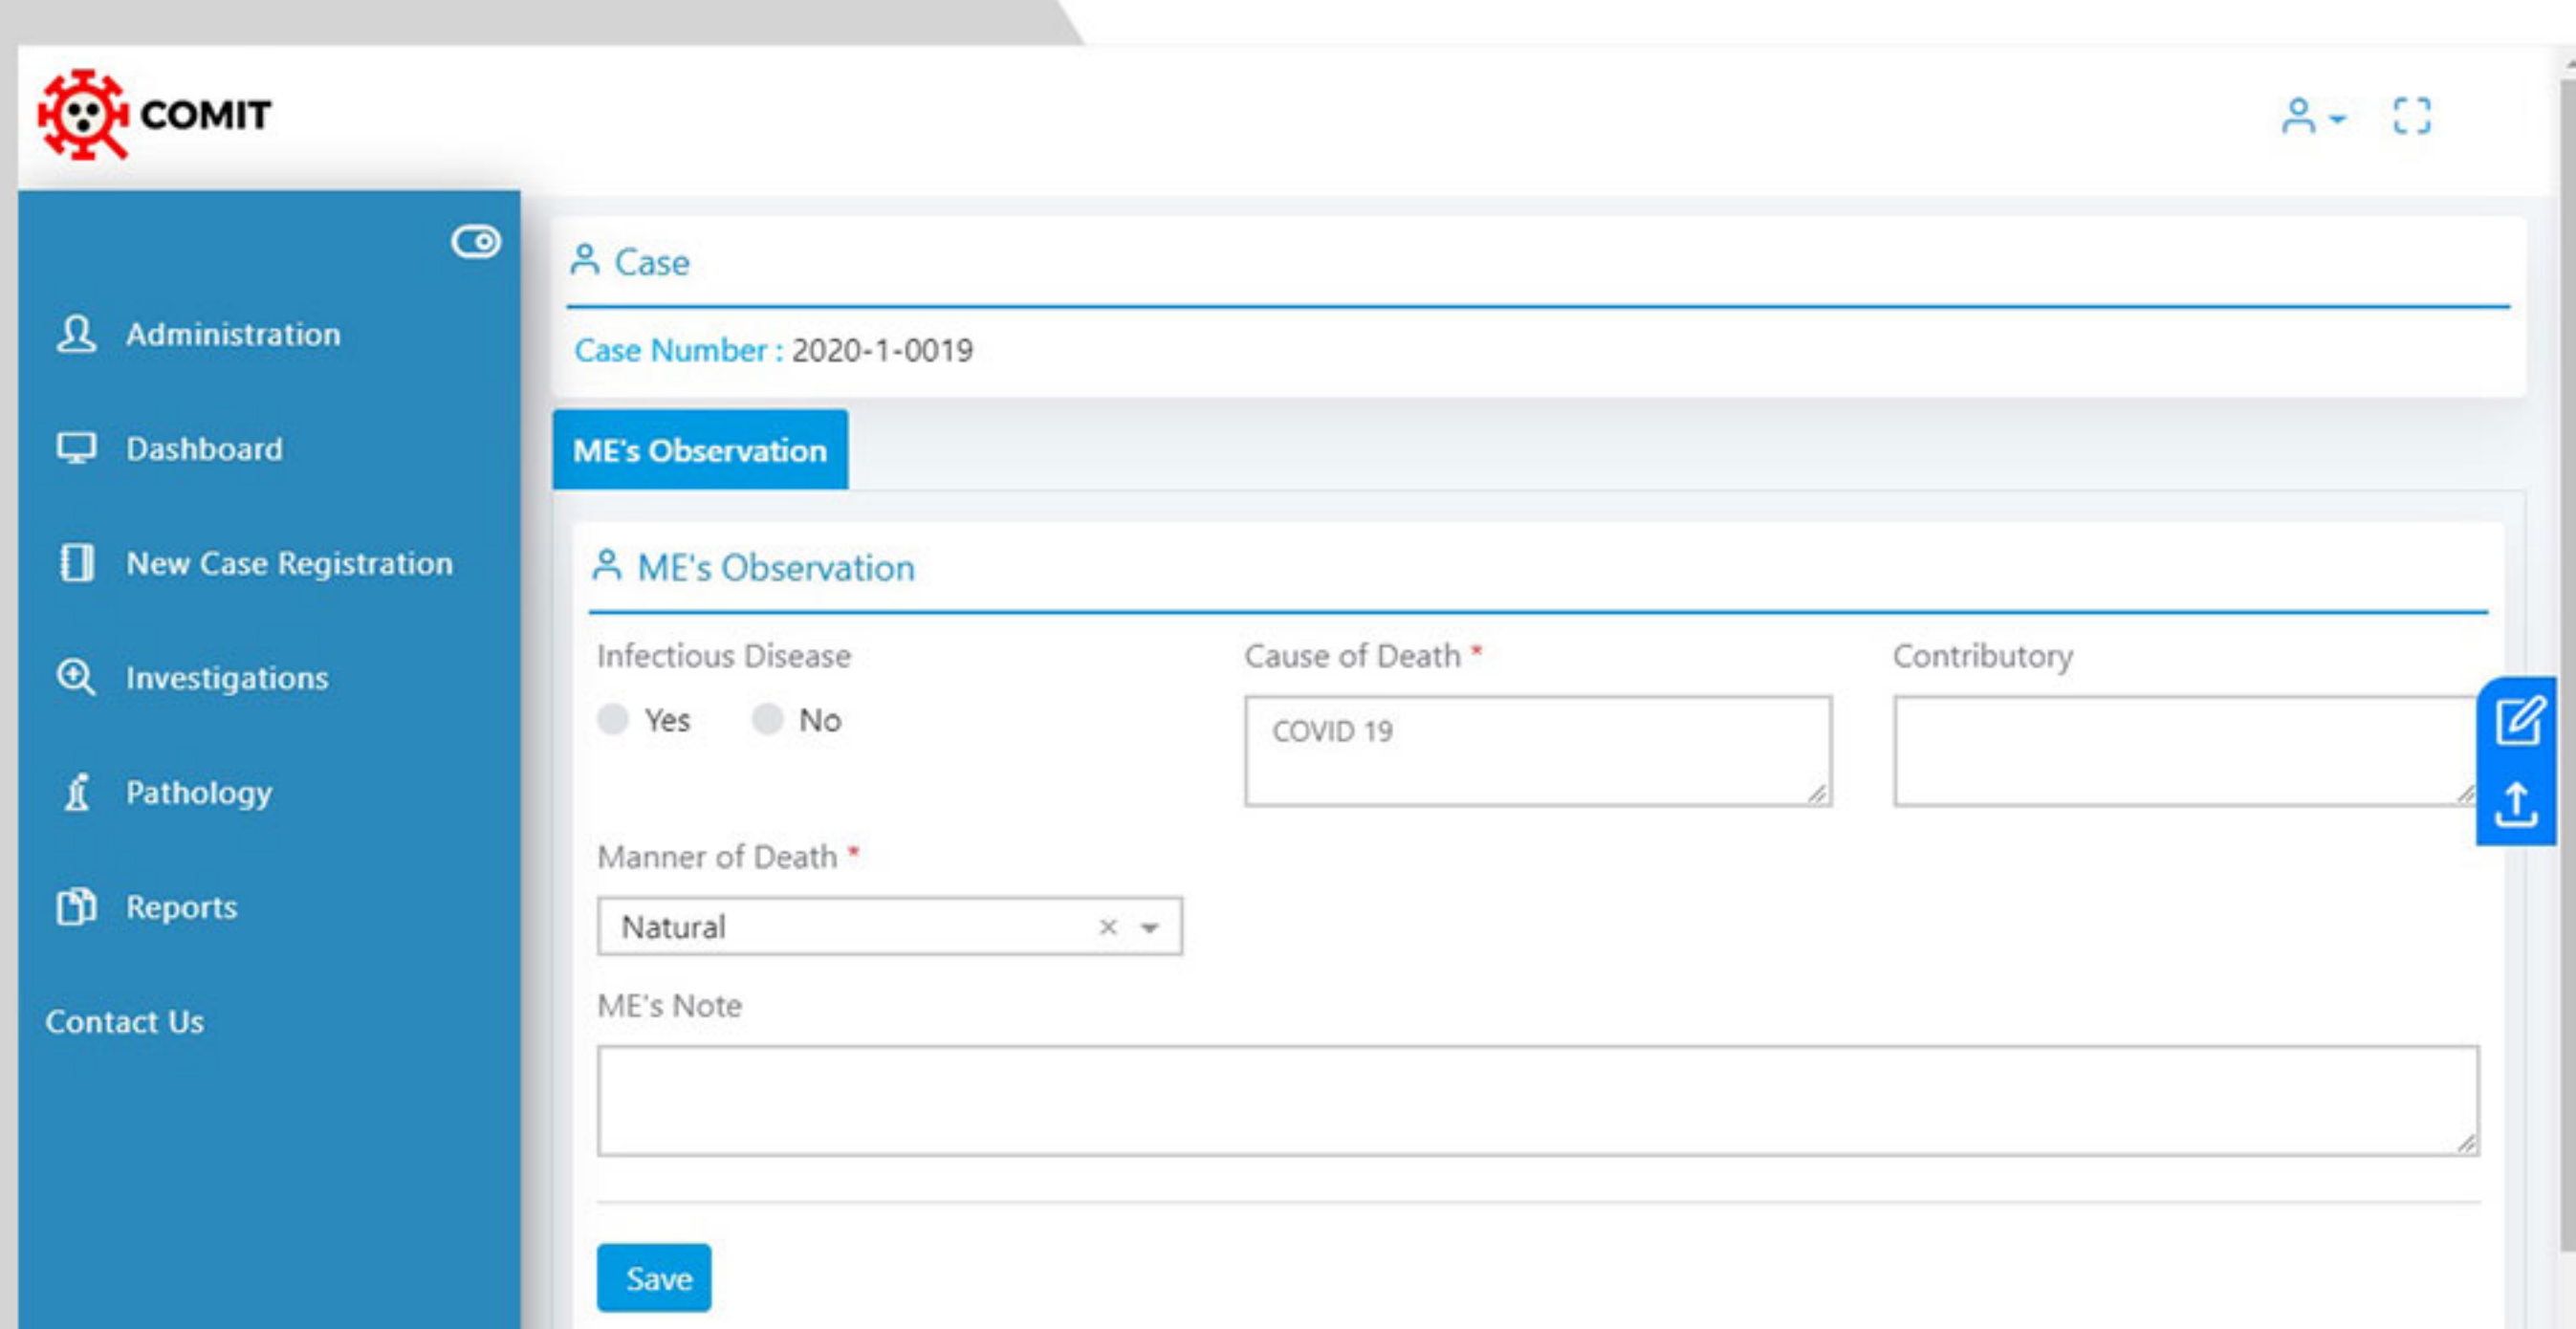

Key Features

This module provides facility to capture all details of a decedent who has been confirmed with or suspected to have died from COVID-19. The information comes in from a medical facility, law enforcement office or funeral home.

The medico-legal investigator can then review the details of the case, speak to the attending doctor, the reporter or the Next of Kin (NOK). The investigator will add NOK, record if death is from COVID-19, and captures the medical history and a case synopsis. Then the investigator will be able to refer the case to an ME.

The ME uses this module to record observations on critical parameters such as: cause and manner of death, presence of any comorbidity and gives the overall observations on the case. The ME will also be able to view the intake data and the investigators' observations.
